McCALLA ELECTED STATE HIGHWAY ENGINEER

WRITER OF FAMOUS SONGS WILL SPEAK IN TWIN CITIES SOON

Dr. Charles Fillmore Will Be Heard At Mass Meeting

SONG BASED ON McKINLEY WIRE

His 'Tell Mother I'll Be There' Translated In Many Languages

By the active co-operation of the Ministerial Association and Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Albany-Decatur, the Twin Cities are to have a treat in the visit of Dr. Charles Millard Fillmore, noted preacher, lecturer and musician.

He will speak before all the high schools and as many ward schools as possible, and on October 25 at 8 p. m. he will address a mass meeting at the Central Methodist church, the largest church auditorium in the Twin Cities where he will sing some of his songs.

Charles M. Fillmore is a member of the well-known Fillmore Music House, Cincinnati, Ohio. His most famous song, "Tell Mother I'll Be There," founded on President McKinley's message to his dying mother, has been translated into a score of languages and sung around the world. As a minister of the gospel he has held pastorates at Cincinnati, Ohio, and at Indianapolis, Lafayette, Peru and Shelbyville, Indiana. At present he is General Secretary of the No-Tobacco League of America. Many people count it a rare privilege to hear the author of "Tell Mother I'll Be There," sing that and other of his songs, as he does in his meetings.

The following is the testimony of Charles M. Alexander in "A Romance of Song and Soul-Winning."

"The song has an interesting origin. When President McKinley was in office, his mother lay dying in Canton, Ohio, several hundred miles away. She sent word that she wanted to see her boy once more before she died.

"President McKinley chartered a special train and telegraphed, 'Tell Mother I'll be there.' Dr. Fillmore caught up the idea and wrote the song. A friend of mine cut it out of a magazine and sent it to me with a suggestion that I try it in my work. I pasted it in my scrap book, more for my friend's sake than because I saw any merit in it, and carried it around for a year before I ever used it.

"One night in Newton Kan., my last campaign with Williams. I was called on to sing a solo. I saw in the audience a great crowd of railway men and said to myself, 'I wonder what would reach those men?' I finally decided to try this touching song and was surprised at the extraordinary result.

"Many of the men professed Christ immediately. When the meeting was over, one big burly engineer came up to me and said, 'Mr. Alexander, I promised my mother on her death bed that I would become a Christian; but instead of that, I have been going to the devil faster than ever. Preaching never touched me, but this song did. If you will sing it tomorrow night I will bring the men. He did bring them for many nights, and he used to call out 'Sing Tell Mother I'll Be There.' I used the song every night and have been singing it ever since. I have seen as many as one hundred and fifty men at a single meeting rise and confess Christ, during the singing of that hymn, before the sermon was begun."

Good Record Made By The Dry Navy

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—The coast guard's dry navy has captured 236 sea going vessels and approximately 400 prisoners since its concentration against rum smugglers was started about seven months ago.

This result has been obtained with a loss of four government ships and about three members of their crews.

NEGRO BAPTIST CHURCH BOMBED

Three Men Are Seen To Drive To Scene In An Automobile

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 16—The Bethesda Baptist church, large community center in the Southside negro district, was damaged in explosion of a dynamite bomb early today. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

A witness told police that shortly before the explosion he saw a man leave an automobile, containing three men, and approach the building. A moment later he ran back to the car and was driven away.

The church, purchased by the negro congregation, after it was abandoned as a synagogue, was bombed a year ago. At that time the police attributed the attack to racial prejudices.

Burgess Case Is Given To The Jury

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Oct. 16—The case of William Burgess, former cashier of the Farmers State bank of Huntsville, charged with violations of the federal reserve bank statutes, went to the jury in United States district court after being on trial since Wednesday.

A mass of figures and accounts was submitted by both sides.

Car Skids Over Track; Driver Is Killed By Train

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 16—Reyon Smith, 20, an employee of the Woodward Iron company at Woodward, was killed instantly Friday morning, when the automobile he was driving was struck by a train near Powderly.

Smith saw the train coming when he was some distance away and applied his brakes. The wet road, however, caused the car to skid on the tracks, directly in front of the train. Smith was killed instantly as the engine of the Tuscaloosa bound passenger train struck the automobile at the driver's seat. Manly Nabers, who was with Smith, escaped virtually unscathed.

SIR PHILIP GIBBS, well advertised correspondent in the big war worrying about his native Britain asks, "Is England done?" Its a "frightful question, which one hesitates to put down in black and white. He puts it down, because truth is mighty, and must not be squelched. Birmingham Officers "Reasonably Sure" They Have the Man

REWARDS OUT FOR KINNIE WAGNER

Tennessean Is Accused Of Many Murders In Two States

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 16—While "reasonably sure" they are holding Kinnie Wagner, wanted in Tennessee on a charge of murder, identification cannot be completed until the arrival of an officer from Bristol. The officer is enroute with all papers necessary to identify the man if he is Wagner.

The pioneer assumed a stoical attitude today and refused to talk.

He bears a "striking resemblance" to newspaper pictures of Wagner, officers said.

Wagner, with six other prisoners, escaped jail at Kingsport, Tenn., July 10. Rewards totalling $2,750 are said to have been offered for his arrest. He was in Kingsport jail, awaiting a second trial on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of two policemen at Kingsport, a verdict of guilty in the first trial was set aside because of a technicality.

He also is wanted in Green County, Mississippi, for killing an officer.

Mrs. Millie Petriman told officers that the prisoner had boarded at her house several weeks, but she was not certain whether he came there before the slayings in Mississippi and Tennessee. The man was arrested shortly after the appearance of an afternoon paper, carrying a picture of Wagner.

Mrs. Petriman said the picture did not resemble the man who lived at her home and who was known as D. E. Wyrsadick.

BRISTOL, Va., Oct. 16—Whether Kinnie Wagner, slayer of three officers and Sullivan county's most notorious desperado, has actually been apprehended in Birmingham, will not be known until tomorrow it is said by police here. Chief of Police of Bristol dispatched last night a special delivery to the Birmingham authorities a letter which contained pictures and full description of Wagner.

HIKE CALLED OFF

The hike to San Souci Cave, scheduled for this evening by members of Troop 17, Boy Scouts has been called off because of the inclement weather. The scheduled meeting, however, will be held at the First Presbyterian church.

ACTION FOLLOWS OUSTING OF TWO BOARD MEMBERS

Governor Brandon Puts Boyd And Smith In Reorganized Unit

STATE WILL SAVE MONEY, IT IS SAID

Long Period Of Service Of New Engineer Is Rewarded

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 16—Colonel W. A. McCalla, of this city, this morning was elected highway engineer of the state of Alabama by unanimous vote of the highway commission.

Colonel McCalla's election followed Governor Brandon's action yesterday in appointing R. P. Boyd and L. J. Smith associate commissioners to replace J. F. Suttle and J. H. Scruggs, whom he had removed from office when they failed to vote for McCalla as had been requested.

The election of McCalla, was the first important move made by the reorganized commission, following the qualification of the two new appointees.

Colonel McCalla has been in the state highway department since 1919 and at the time of his election he was principal assistant in charge of construction under Mr. Scruggs. He succeeds the late W. S. Kaller.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 16—As a result of a break between Governor W. W. Brandon and members of the state highway commission over election of Colonel McCalla as state engineer, Associate Commissioner Suttle, of Dallas county, and J. H. Scruggs of Jefferson County were removed from office late yesterday afternoon.

R. P. Boyd, of Montgomery and L. G. Smith of Tuscaloosa, were appointed to succeed them. Both Boyd and Smith have accepted the appointment but, asked for a statement last night Mr. Scruggs said he and Mr. Suttle had nothing to say.

The split between the Governor and the commissioners was the outcome of the voting down of a resolution sent the highway commission yesterday by Mr. Brandon. This resolution, which had been substituted for one suggested by the commission on October 15, provided for the permanent election of McCalla as highway engineer, with Smith and Boyd as his assistants.

Mr. Scruggs and Mr. Suttle voted against the resolution defeating it in the face of Chairman Roger's affirmative vote, causing a deadlock.

Governor Brandon's action, removing the two commissioners, came shortly afterward.

The resolution passed by the commission and sent to the Governor on October 15, for which yesterday's resolution had been substituted, provided for the temporary appointment of Colonel McCalla, until a permanent official could be chosen.

This resolution was passed by affirmative vote on the part of Scruggs and Suttle, while Rogers opposed it.

The removal of Mr. Scruggs and Mr. Suttle will result in the saving of approximately $17,000 a year it is said, as Mr. Boyd will be in charge of maintenance and Mr. Smith in charge of construction, in addition to their positions as commissioners. This abolishes the two offices, as under the old regime, Boyd was maintenance engineer under Mr. Suttle and Colonel McCalla had charge of construction under Mr. Scruggs.

The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted

By DOROTHY A. F. MARCELL

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich is a picture-ization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

John Mannering, district attorney, rushes to the apartment of Jerome Wallace, his opponent in the coming election, to find his wife, Eileen, there. He accuses her of having been present at the raid, that night, of a notorious inn and she does not deny it. Young Bob Mannering, their son, is in jail, accused of manslaughter in having caused a woman's death in an automobile smash. Wallace was a suitor of Eileen's before her marriage.

"You did this thing, so that your lover might beat me, eh?"

"No," she cried, and again and again, "No," while she tried to press her hands to his lips to stay the words he could not unsay.

Past all reasoning, he thrust back her hands and faced them both. She wild with fear and Wallace with a twisted smile upon his lips.

"You might have waited until morning. Then, you might have learned that tonight I resigned." He made a gesture towards Wallace, the hatred in his tone bitter, biting. "You have a clear field, now."

"D—n you, d—n you both," he cried and made for the door, but only to pause and, turning, point his finger at Eileen. "You've put him in office, d—n him. But, thank God, I can still fight. I'm going to fight him and save my son." Then, Mannering was gone.

Like some demented creature, Eileen followed after him. Through the hallway, into the street, she rushed madly, to come finally to the car in which he had that moment seated himself.

"This here lady, she's sick and wants a room."

"John," she sobbed pitiously, "let me in, let me in."

His answer was to signal the driver to go on.

White and distraught, she was left on the curb staring after the departing car, a wife who was not wanted. Finally dazed, faint, half-conscious of what she was doing, she turned to move away. And passing her own taxi, its driver spoke to her. Like one in a trance, she climbed in at the door he held open for her and sank limply upon the cushions.

"Where to, now?" said the driver, and he had to repeat his question again and again before she answered him.

"Drive," she said, wearily. "Just drive—and drive—and drive."

CHAPTER XII

Reddy Gear, taxi cab driver, yawned, nodded and straightened up with a shiver as the chill air of the early morning struck in to his bones. Mechanically, he swung his taxi over to speed by the lumbering bulk of a great truck with but few spare inches between himself and disaster. He frowned, but with never a thought to the exigencies of traffic. These were in the day's work and he had other perplexities. Unused to profound cogitation, they lay heavily upon him. In his perplexity, he gazed moodily about him. On the one hand, a great forest in all its primeval grandeur, skirted the road and filled the air with the rich odor of resinous pine and hemlock. On the other, the wide reaches of a river, silvery beneath the rising sun, stretched away. Yet, Red was not interested in the lumber industry, nor was he given to faring forth upon the water. Taxi cabs, tires, carburetors and passengers summed his world. At the moment, a passenger who rode on and on. Suppose this one proposed to continue on forever? In Red's mind there arose a vision of an extraordinary taxi cab journey. One that would send him on through the years with that motionless and eyed passenger always behind. Send him on, until he became an ancient bearded man and she a toothless hag. It might seem that this would be the acme of success to one of Red's calling. But he had no such feeling. Rounding a curve, there lay before him a village nestled in the midst of the forest on the bank of the river. At sight of the town came resolution. A novel one too in a taxi driver. He turned and shouted at Eileen. "Say—don't you want to stop at this next town?"

She turned to gaze at him, her face blank, as if she had difficulty in locating herself, to finally nod wearily.

As a man who sees himself relieved of a burden, Red drove on, to finally stop before a little hotel, weather worn and dilapidated. He helped Eileen out of the taxi and she stumbled partway up the steps, leading to the rickety porch, where she paused, lacking the strength to proceed.

Intent upon ridding himself of his passenger, Red moved on to the door and thundered clamorously upon it with his fist. For a few moments there was no sign of life, then steps sounded within, the door was opened and a sleepy landlord in his shirt sleeves appeared.

"This here lady," said Ned, "she's sick and wants a room."

"I dunno," responded the hotel man doubtfully, scratching his towed head. "Don't nobody but lumberjacks an' mill hands stay here, an' what's more this ain't no hospital."

"She ain't," said Red hastily, "she ain't what you'd call really sick, just tired. What she wants is just rest and she ain't a bit particular how she gets it, so long as she gets it. What's more," he continued, speaking with marvelous confidence upon a subject which had caused him no little personal misgivings, "she's got lots of money and ain't caring about what she pays for anything, so long as she gets it."

Before so fair spoken a recommendation as Red's what innkeeper could remain obdurate, what one long hesitate? Certainly the doubts of this one were promptly dispelled. Hardly had Red ceased speaking than the hotel man, all courtesy and attention in his rough way, was ushering Eileen into the house, up the stairs and down a long hall into a plainly furnished room. There he paused to regard her kindly, if curiously.

"Anything else, ma'am? What we got ain't much, but all you got to do is to holler an' it's yours."

Her senses numbed with grief and unutterably wearied by the events of the night, Eileen shook her head, hardly aware of what the man had said. Too dazed had she been to be aware of other things, too. That she had given Reddy a bill of a denomination which had lifted his tried soul from the slough of despair to the heights of joy was a thing to which she perhaps would have given little heed had she realized it. But had she known of Diane Bledsoe's presence, and, above all else, her extraordinary behavior Eileen would have found food for much thought.

For Diane had seen and recognized Eileen, early as it was, that morning. Out for a morning horseback ride, Diane had cantered up just as Reddy had assisted Eileen from the taxicab, and she had paused uncertainly on the hotel steps. The sight of Bob's mother waiting there had affected Diane strangely. Turning white as a sheet, she had swayed so far in the saddle as to almost lose her seat. Recovering herself with an effort she had swung her mount about and applying the whip to the mettlesome beast had fled the town.

Free State To Begin Electrical Project On River Shannon

DUBLIN—The electrical project about to be inaugurated by the free state on the River Shannon will cost in the partial form adopted for its inception approximately $25,000,000. This includes an additional 15 per cent of the actual cost as interest on the capital during the first five years of the working of the scheme. The extension of the scheme as the demand for the supply of electricity continues will bring the total cost to more than $35,000,000.

While the project was approved in both houses of parliament it was criticized principally because the contract was given to the German firm, Siemens-Schuckert, without competitive bidding.

The government will finance the work out of loans, but no large one is as yet contemplated.

The expenditure involved in the scheme will be met as it arises and for the first two years it will not exceed $3,750,000 yearly. Limerick, through which all the material will be conveyed, expects to greatly benefit from the work and it is estimated that more than 3,000 men, 500 of whom will be semi-skilled will be employed for about three years.

Six German engineers, with about 50 Irish assistant engineers will be in charge of the scheme, which will involve the making of 100 miles of embankments, excavating 5,000,000 cubic meters of earth and the blasting of 1,000,000 meters of solid rock. The electrical load of the partial scheme will be 150,000,000 units and the cost per unit at Dublin is calculated at 0.53 pence. The transmission lines from the power station to Cork and Dublin will be at 100,000 volts and will be carried on steel masts 65 feet high.

A Delightful Row

"My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship; so when I brought home a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists—Adv.

WHY APPENDICITIS IS DISAPPEARING FAST

It's No Longer a Prevalent Disease, Due to Higher Health Standards and Preventive Measures Against Infected Spots.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

WHEN I was a medical student we used to observe cases, even surgical cases ran in "strings." We would have a lot of broken arms and then a series of broken skulls. There would be a number of gall-bladder cases and then a lot of appendicitis.

There was a time when appendicitis seemed almost epidemic. What has become of it? In order to get this disease it is necessary to have lowered resistance from some cause or other, and then to have floating about in the system one of the pus producing germs.

Undoubtedly we are learning how to avoid lowered resistance. We are finding out that the simple hygiene measures of fresh air, sunlight, plenty of sleep, good food and exercise—are making us stronger, more vigorous, and more resistant to disease.

Likewise, we have been forced to believe that pus centers are dangerous. No longer is a "running ear" regarded as a harmless thing permitted to exist through a decade. No longer are diseased tonsils, pussy gums or abscessed teeth, "outgrown."

Very wisely we are giving an energetic attention to what used to be regarded as trifling things. Experience and more advanced knowledge have taught us that we cannot afford to disregard enervating conditions and pus propagation.

As we continue to have occasional cases of appendicitis. We cannot expect it to be 100 per cent perfect in our preventive measures.

Is pain in the abdomen a sure sign of this disease? Of course not. Many a painful abdomen is nothing more than a sign of indigestion, but well defined and localized pain over the right side of the abdomen must give rise to the suspicion that all is not well with the appendix.

Rigidity—hardness, stiffness, tenderness—of the abdominal muscles in this region, is another suspicious symptom.

Digestive and intestinal symptoms, too, are likely to be observed. Almost always constipation is present. Except in the very gravest cases diarrhea is never met.

Sickness at the stomach and vomiting are among the signs sometimes seen. Tenderness on pressure over the right side may or may not be observed.

The temperature may not run above 103 degrees. If the temperature is high the pulse low, or vice versa, it is a disturbing combination. Space does not permit discussion of treatment. The best advice I can give you, is to put the victim to bed, apply quantities of ice to the abdomen and send for the doctor. Do nothing else if the doctor is within reach.

Answers to Health Queries

B. L. Q.—What is the cause of excessive perspiration?

GERMAN OPERA SINGER DIES

HANOVER—Maria Sophia Himmer Friederici, the first German "Marguerite" of Gounod's "Faust," died at Himmelsstueh at the age of 86. From 1862 to 1871 she sang in opera in the United States together with her husband, Franz Himmer. Shortly after her return to Germany she retired from the operatic stage, although prior to going to the United States she had only sung in this country for five years.

Wide Publicity Helps Women Here Learn the Truth

Women Need To Know More About Mysterious Malady Which Is Cause of Ninety Per Cent of Their Suffering and Pain From So-Called "Female Disorders."

The great sensation which the wonderful medicine known as St. Joseph's G. F. P. has been causing among the women of this country ever since it was first introduced here a few short weeks ago can be compared to the excitement caused by the discovery of gold in California, or the finding of oil in Oklahoma. Seldom has such tremendous enthusiasm been seen here.

And no wonder the demand for G. F. P. is growing by leaps and bounds. Public statements are being made every day telling the most extraordinary things about this phenomenal medicine and the marvelous changes it is making in those who formerly suffered from so-called "female disorders."

"Nothing can show more clearly the great influence which publicity has over disease and ill health than the remarkable decrease in suffering and pain from so-called 'female disorders' which is following the spread of the fame of G. F. P.," says the representative of the discoverers of this great medicine.

"Nine out of every ten of such distressing symptoms, as headaches, backaches, pains in the sides and back, cramps, nausea, nervousness, irregularity, irritability, dizziness, loss of sleep, lack of appetite and that awful run-down, tired out, feeling of weariness, depression and melancholy have been proven beyond question, are caused by catarrh of the generative organs, the dreaded malady which attacks the mucous membrane that lines these delicate organs and through the inflammation of this lining, rapidly spreads to other parts of the system unless something is done to check it. It never 'works itself out' but continues to cause more misery and serious trouble as long as it is let alone."

Women Now Depend on St. Joseph's G. F. P. To Restore Their Vitality

Alma Rubens in "Fine Clothes"

Alma Rubens plays a more humble role than is usually assigned her in John M. Stahl's production of which Louis B. Mayer is presenting through First National at the Princess theatre next week.

During the first part of the picture Miss Rubens is a cashier in a haberdashery shop in London. In that she wears the simplest of clothes. But later she is given the opportunity to wear some gorgeous creations especially imported for her from Paris.

She is featured with Lewis Stone and Percy Marmont and others in the cast are William V. Mong, Eileen Percy and Raymond Griffith.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, T. G. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. —Adv.

INDIANS FIGHT IN COURTS FOR RIGHT TO USE Mescal

HELENA—Whether the Bible is sufficient authority for the use of mescal in religious ceremonies by the Crow Indians is a question to be determined by the Montana Supreme court this fall.

Big Sheep, a Crow Indian, was arrested and convicted in the district court for Big Horn county, charged with possession of narcotics. Federal agents found in his possession a sack containing 56 mescal buttons.

Big Sheep explained that he is a leader of the congregation of the Native American church and that the decoction from the buttons is a necessary part of the ritual of the church. State and federal laws say it is a prohibited narcotic. The Indian appealed from the decision of the district court, citing three scriptural references which he alleged as his authority for possession of the buttons and use of the liquor made from them.

These include the second verse of Romans XIV, the seventeenth verse of Revelations II, and the entire chapter of Isaiah LIII.

Big Sheep declares that he owned the 56 mescal buttons before 1923, when the Montana law became effective and that the liquor prepared by stewing and boiling the buttons was taken only in accordance with teachings and doctrines of the Bible and for no other purpose.

12 Years Ago

From The Daily of
October 16, 1913

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Chandler visited Birmingham yesterday.

Mrs. E. C. Payne, Mrs. Jerre Clark and Miss Bonnie Jervis returned today from the Sunday school convention at New Market.

There will be a called meeting of the Culture club tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock at the residence of Mrs. R. L. Maury on Gordon Drive.

A bill of complaint containing 12,000 words was filed in the Morgan county Law & Equity court this morning. Circuit Court Clerk John Green said it was the longest bill ever filed in through his hands.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Daniel are attending the Birmingham Fair.

Now with the world series at an end The Daily will miss the hundreds of phone calls in the afternoon. It has been a pleasure to serve the anxious fans and hear their expressions as the score and inning was given out.

Arthur Brisbane was a few hours early with his praise of Walter Johnson as a man. Had he waited a few hours it is likely that the kind things would never have been said about a great ball player by a great editor. Yet we are glad that Mr. Brisbane was a bit previous, flowers to the living are much more appropriate than wreaths to the dead.

We congratulate Solicitor Almon in his victory of the present week. The solicitor has hundreds of friends throughout this section who are more than pleased that he is vindicated of a serious charge. Since being in office Mr. Almon has established a record that has not been surpassed by a single prosecuting officer in the state, had more solicitors given the effort and the energy which Mr. Almon has given, it is likely that our state would have far less violators of the prohibition laws, feeling that should they commit a crime that they would later pay the penalty.

Today the state is observing Forest Protection Day, an event heretofore unknown to us, but nevertheless of more than ordinary importance. The recent drought caused Governor Brandon to issue a proclamation to the effect that the conservation of state forests should be a matter for the serious consideration of every citizen. Fires in a dry season are dangerous, a fire, resulting from carelessness, can cost thousands of dollars in losses in a very few seconds. The proclamation is timely and we trust that the citizenship will respond with the usual co-operative spirit.

Decatur has let the contract for the building of additional paving at an approximate cost of $32,000. Until further demand is made, through the growth of the city, Decatur can boast of one of the finest systems of city streets in the entire southland. There is not a single street in the city which has not at the present time been paved, or the contract been let for paving, provided the section warrants the expenditure. City officials are to be congratulated upon their progressive spirit, their desire to move forward and the citizenship for giving every possible aid in the work. Good streets are a boon to every community.

WRITER SCORES MINISTERS FOR BROAD SCOPE OF THEIR WORK

Writing in a periodical publication during the past week, a writer who is more or less unknown, and whose contribution to the magazine is destined to make him still more of an obscurity in the literary world, takes occasion to score heavily against the clergy. The writer takes the unusual view that the minister of today should attend to the clergy, affairs pertaining to the clergy and refuse to branch out into this great world. He believes that if more ministers stick to the ministry and the simple teaching of the creed that there will result more convictions of religious faith and that thousands of people who in some way have had their faith shaken in the supreme Ruler will return again to the fold.

People who have a shaken faith are merely fooling themselves. They hum and haw the livelong day declaring themselves to be atheists, non-believers, laugh at the practice of people who indulge in prayer, prayer is an indulgence, it is one of the finest pleasures given to mankind, criticize members of the ministry and decry any effort upon the part of the minister who tells what he believes to be true, as hypocritical. It is not so in the end of things, so-called atheists fall upon their knees and ask forgiveness of a Supreme Being, call upon a minister to relieve them of soul suffering. It is impossible to believe in a God in any halfway measure, you can find little surcease from pain in believing that God will protect in one way and forget in another. You must have the same rocklike faith in every event that may happen in your life. This does not necessarily mean that you will be forced to make a club of your cross at all, your cross must need be a persuasion if you are to enjoy the richest blessing of your faith.

The minister of today must enter into public affairs, he has to have the alert mind of the business man, the educated wealth of the teacher, the simple faith of a child. The preacher must be a composite of all the good in the world if he is to succeed and fulfill the mission upon which he has been called. These days are far different from the days gone by when there was only a small congregation to preach to and that congregation made up of one class of people. The minister must be universal in his appeal if he is to enjoy success in his holy work. Then, he must seek a broad field for his endeavor if he is to produce the everlasting effect upon his congregation which he seeks.

The writer who declares that a minister should stick to his one track code would likely advise a banker to spend all his time counting out dollars, tell a newspaper man to write only on one subject, direct a teacher of science to read only those books and articles pertaining to science. It seems that this writer is a bit backward in his view, he belongs to a generation of the past.

The minister, no doubt, would like to have a great many of the cares which he has through the week lifted from his shoulders, go into his pulpit on Sunday and teach his Christian creed, but the world will not respond, people will demand more of him regardless of what view he may have in the matter. He is a servant of the people and therefore must serve the people as they wish him to serve. The greater the expanse of lives in all classes he may be able to cover, then the more successful if his work going to be. He has to be modern for the day calls for modernists, he has to have a great amount of toleration, he must be a diplomat, if he lacks in patience then his congregation soon dwindles. Take away the work of the minister and you have taken away the strongest force in the civilized world. Give him an opportunity to branch out into a greater field and there is an immediate response from the people. The clergy must serve as the people wish to be served and not as the clergy sees fit to teach.

WE HOPE THESE FOLKS ARE WRONG, THAT HISTORY WILL NOT REPEAT

Following a great deal of press comment upon the Muscle Shoals situation, the chance for settlement of the long overdue issue and the gratification of many southern minds and pocketbooks, the Gadsden Times plays a rather mournful tune in predicting that the controversy is far from being at an end and that the fight has only started. Bards sung years ago that history does not repeat and we hope that the bard who contributed that immortal line was a wideawake man when he wrote, for the history of the Shoals campaigns have not been what you might term as palatable to the southern people. The Times casts a gloomy glance in the direction of Washington as the Shoals controversy is about to be reopened, saying:

It begins to look as if the Muscle Shoals question will continue to trouble congress and the country.

The president's commission will probably render a report showing that its members are divided over whether the property should be operated by the government or by a private corporation.

Congress will also be divided and unless President Coolidge takes the right stand and shows that he is not actuated by partisan bias or sectionalism a great asset to the nation will be thrown away.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood, who led the fight for an optional government or private operation measure at the last session, expresses the hope that Mr. Coolidge would recommend a measure which he could support. He declared he was ready to endorse any sound proposal that provides for national defense, to which Muscle Shoals was dedicated.

There are other leaders in the senate and house, however, who look at the question as a matter of party politics and they cannot rise to the level of Mr. Underwood. There are still others—and they are rather numerous in both branches of congress—who will vote against anything that might benefit the South, particularly anything that might advance its industrial interests.

There is no cause to doubt that the Times is correct in predicting that there will be a mass of party politics played in the forthcoming session when the commission's report is made to the President and then to congress. The battle will be waged from the start to the ending, but we feel more optimistic over the outlook, we think that when the battle smoke is cleared this time that there will have been something really worthwhile done. This of course will not be in tune with the precedent already set.

Congress seems to enjoy the slow motion camera on all congressional activities, but this is one time that the boys sent to Washington to take care of the people's affairs are going to ask that the spotlight be turned elsewhere, in case there is nothing definite to come from the commission's report and the congressional action that is to follow.

People of the southland, particularly in the state of Alabama have been seated on pins and needles for the past seven years, waiting for Congress to do something with the Shoals project. It has been kicked from one end of the capital gridiron to another, there is not a single fumble recovered and neither team has gone over with a winning touchdown, though the opposition has been accused of considerable holding, there have been no penalties. The man who said the perpetual motion machine was a wild dream if far wrong. If the Shoals question hasn't been in perpetual motion ever since Congress has been in session in the past seven years, then there was not a home run in the world series.

Again we rise to accord our congressional leaders hearty support, believing that they can go to the polls this time and take a majority with them, but we might also add that we are becoming very tired of rising and cheering them on to victory when they have been stopped on every play thus far in the game. If they can pull the political strings correctly this time, they may rest assured that the people of the southern states will do their share of the right guessing for the man in office at the next elections. Certainly, it would be inspiring to learn that Congress has done something other than merely go in session, answer roll call and aid in another probe.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

VERY well. Prices are going up, they are becoming more than ever exclusive. A "rich man's stock" you know is one with a price so high that little men can't afford to speculate in it.

Kresge stocks, for instance jumps $80 a share and Ford of Canada $35 a share in one day. Such fluctuations would rattle the back teeth, financially speaking, of any speculator.

THAT'S why the kind-hearted rich men cut big shares up into many little shares that the little man may "get in."

You observe that the highest price "rich man's" stock, Kresge, around $800 a share, represents dealing in 5 and 10 cent articles. Much power in little things.

DEAN INGE, eminently respectable clergyman at the head of St. Paul's cathedral in London, favors birth control. He says "LIMIT FREE EDUCATION to not more than three children, from any one family."

HE believes parents will limit the number of children, if they have to educate all but three at their own expense. Good, gloomy dean, he knows little about human nature.

And he worries, because common people have most of the children, the birth rate being lowest among the educated classes.

WHAT would the dean have said to Nancy Hanks, with bare feet, a lady unable to read or write, caring for her baby in a hut with dirt floor, and without windows.

He'd have said "leave child bearing to the educated upper classes, my dear." But the big baby was Abraham Lincoln. You never can tell.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE talks less than the average, but says more. When it is proposed to tear up the constitutional guarantee that the people shall be allowed to have and bear arms the president looks up out of his cold New England gray eye and wonders if it would really do any good to keep weapons away from decent people, entitled to have them, also whether you really could keep them away from the other kind of people.

GOOD MEN and women in Chicago plan to fight sin with singing. They will sing Christmas Carols this year, on a big scale, hotel lobbies, railroad stations, public streets, everywhere. They hope it will soften the criminal heart.

It may work, everyone knows what music did to the Walls of Jericho. A certain amount of carol singing with Chicago fervor, might persuade criminals to select a less musical residence. On the other hand, it might cause strange, new sorts of crime. No harm in trying, since nothing else succeeds.

THIS COUNTRY it is said, will not lend Europe money to be spent for military purposes.

The kind old lady, handing a penny to a tramp says "now don't spend it for a drink." How can she know? when our money gets to Europe they do as they please with it.

YOUNG RATTLERS REARED ON WHITE MICE IN MUSEUM

MINNEAPOLIS—Eight tiny rattle snakes—button, rattle and all—at the Minneapolis museum represent the first young born of rattlesnakes which mated after being placed in captivity in the belief of Miss Grace R. Wiley curator, whose contention is supported by famous naturalists and the Dittmars of New York City.

The young were born to one of three genuine rattles which, until their capture three years ago, roamed the plains of Texas. The original litter numbered eleven, but three died shortly after birth. The remaining eight fed principally upon white mice are growing rapidly. They measured 12 inches in length at the second month, twice that at birth.

The baby rattlers are kept in a small box separate from the glass case containing the parents and other members of the snake colony. The female snake, not being of the mammal species, could do little to care for her young after birth, so Miss Wiley segregated them until they were strong enough to protect themselves from being crushed by the large ones milling about the cage.

Small white mice, raised by the museum are the only food given the young while the grown serpents are denied such luxuries as a regular diet.

THOUGHTS

OF THE WEEK

By J. A. West

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

This article is written not with the intention of detracting in any way whatsoever from the efficiency and scientific management of sickness by the doctor of today, but is intended to call attention to the faithfulness and efficiency of the country doctor of the past, considering the many handicaps under which he labored.

First of all, the country doctor of the past was usually a fine educated man, both of mind and heart. The progress he made; the difficulties he surmounted, the prestige he brought to the profession which he honored, was in a large measure attributable to the fact that he prided himself in his profession, and kept abreast of the times in medicine, spending his spare moments reading literature bearing directly on the profession which he practiced.

There were no good roads for the country doctors which I have in mind, and a large majority of his trips both day and night in all kinds of weather were necessarily made on horseback. There were no telephones in the period to which I refer in this section and frequently he would come home from a long trip only to return to that same community, whereas if there had been telephone, he could have been summoned while in that section, and saved many miles of hard riding.

The country doctor of the past to whom I refer must make those trips on horseback, varying from five to twenty miles, and these to be made either day or night in all kinds of weather, emphasizes the disadvantages under which he labored, and maintained his position as the one man in the community to whom the entire people looked to in times of sickness and distress.

The country doctor was something more than a mere physician, for generally he was a man possessed of many fine qualities of both mind and heart and was able to render to his people who trusted him implicitly, more than the service to their bodily ills.

He was consulted on many of the problems which confronted the people among whom he practiced, his good advice saving them many times from worry and inconvenience.

Many homes have been genuinely saddened by the announcement that their country doctor had gone from among them, and felt that they had suffered a real personal loss when the announcement was made that their doctor was no more.

The many handicaps over which they must overcome, the long days and nights beside the sick couch, the remoteness of the territory which they covered on account of the fact that the faithful horse was the dependence for travel; the meagre appliances and medicine which they were able to take with them; the science of medicine was in its infancy; the fact that many of the theories held to during that period have since been proven wrong; no trained nurses to carry out the instructions, made his work hard indeed and under these circumstances, the triumphs over disease he was able to secure, placed him well toward the front rank with his brother physicians of today, and weave for him garlands of forget-me-nots in the winds and hearts of those who received his unselfish ministrations under such trying circumstances.

MADE NEW MAN OUT OF HIM

Thought He Would Never Be Well Again Before He Used Herb Juice.

Several months ago I thought I would never be well again. Today I feel like a new man, thanks to the wonderful results I have had from Herb Juice and I can certainly recommend this medicine to anyone," said Mr. Sam Massey of Donelson, Tenn. when he called to see the Herb Juice man a few days ago. "Before I used your medicine," continued Mr. Massey, "I was in such a run-down condition, brought on by years of suffering by stomach trouble, that I had given up all hopes of ever being well again. I also suffered a great deal with my kidneys and was badly constipated all the time. My whole system seemed to be full of poison, life was sluggish, then to make matters worse, I began to suffer with rheumatism. I tried first one medicine then another, but it was just the same—money spent for no relief.

"Then I was fortunate enough to hear about Herb Juice, which I want to say to you, is the greatest medicine I have ever used. In all I have now taken three bottles of Herb Juice and I simply feel like a new man. My bowels act regularly. I eat all I want and never have any trouble with my stomach. My kidneys and liver are in good shape and I have gained several pounds in weight. I have also been relieved of rheumatic pains. Herb Juice has certainly proved its value to me and I can recommend it to anyone."

Herb Juice, the great medicine, that is accomplishing such great results in the way of relieving sufferers is now being introduced in Albany by Caddell Drug Co.—Adv't.

Not Engaged

"Miss Washington, 1924," who is Helen Gould Sweeney, denies the report she is engaged to Goose Goslin, who flew high with home runs for the Senators in the series with Pittsburgh. Goslin and the Washington beauty were seen frequently on the dance floor at the capital; hence the reported engagement.

Vote Announced On Unification

(Associated Press) NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 16.—The total vote in the Methodist Episcopal church South conferences today stood at 1,835 for unification with the Methodist Episcopal church and 1,153 against. This is 223 short of the three fourths of the vote already cast, required in the Southern church for unification.

The vote in the South Brazil conference still is missing, although that conference voted unanimously for unification.

NEWPORT, Tenn., Oct. 16.—An overwhelming vote was given today by the Holston conference to the proposed plan of unification of the Methodist Episcopal churches.

More Shrimp Taken In Alabama Waters

(Associated Press) MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 16.—Game and Fish Commissioner I. T. Quinn, who has just returned from a trip to the Gulf coast, reports that more shrimp are being taken from Alabama waters this fall than there have been in years. The shrimp this year are of unusually fine quality, Mr. Quinn reports.

Factories canning the shrimp are working overtime to handle the tremendous catches, according to Mr. Quinn.

Prospects for oyster fishing are good this year, Commissioner Quinn said when discussing his trip.

termop on widely scattered sectors. The Albany high school is to entertain St. Bernard on the local field, while the Decatur high squad was to take on Morgan County high, in Hartsville.

The L. & N. Y. M. C. A. team, their game with Morgan at Petersburg, Tenn., cancelled this morning, left before noon for Huntsville to meet the Huntsville College team.

Old Case Disposed Of In Montgomery

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 16.—The present session of the Montgomery county grand jury has accomplished what two other grand juries failed to do by disposing of the oldest circuit court case in the records of the county. In the case of J. W. Derden, plaintiff, against S. T. Rushton, defendant, a verdict was given to Rushton after the two juries that first heard the case voted in a mistrial.

The case hinged around a claim of $1,000 damages by Derden for conversion by him on December 1, 1920 of six bales of cotton which he had prior to that time stored with the defendant. The jury decided that the damages should not be paid and the case was settled after long litigation. Since the case was first entered with Circuit Clerk Henry N. Hughes, approximately 3,000 other cases have been entered on the circuit court docket.

How to stop BOILS!

There's only one way to stop boils. Stop the cause of boils! That's common sense—isn't it? All right. Boils thrive because the blood gets so weak in healthy red cells that it can't throw off the impurities that get into the body. There's not enough rich, red blood to purify the system. Now—S. S. S. builds back the blood to fighting strength. S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells—builds them by the millions! Boils dry up! S. S. S. is the thing. Impurities that cause boils and other skin eruptions can't stand up against the rich, healthy, red blood that S. S. S. builds. That's all there is to it. Stop boils with S. S. S. It's the way. Get it at any druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

The True Cost of Printing

Do you consider printing as merely an expense necessary to the operation of your business? Or do you treat it as a means of building business?

Poor printing is an expense, not only in the money it costs, but in its undesirable reflection on your business.

Good printing costs nothing—it offsets its own cost and makes money for you.

Whether the printing be a direct appeal for business such as a circular or other form of direct advertising, or a statement or other office form, quality counts in the reckoning of its cost.

We look upon printing as something which should absorb its own cost and make a profit for its user. And we produce printing that does.

W. M. U. ANNUAL MEETING

The Associational W. M. U. of Morgan County will hold its annual meeting with Central Baptist church, Albany on Tuesday, October 20th, co-operation being the keynote of the day's program.

The program will begin at 10 a. m. Most of the morning program will be given over to Jacob Gartenhaus, missionary to the Jews. He is a very strong speaker.

Mrs. J. W. Moore, the Northern district vice president will speak at the afternoon service.

All Baptist women of Morgan County were urged to attend this meeting. The pastors and laymen were invited. All officers were urged to bring with them reports of the year's work.

Lunch will be served by the hostess church.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. O. F. Stinson was the hostess to the members of the Thursday Bridge club this week and she had one guest, Mrs. Shaffer.

At the club game Mrs. Spencer Garrett made top score. Late in the afternoon a salad course was served.

Mrs. Stinson's home was prettily decorated with roses and carnations on this occasion.

THURSDAY CLUB

The Thursday club met with Mrs. B. M. Bloodworth on Thursday afternoon and two guests played with the club members, Mrs. W. N. Cowden and Mrs. John McGehee.

Mrs. McGehee received the guest memento and Mrs. Bloodworth the club prize after which sandwiches and coffee were served.

SILK STOCKING CLUB

At the meeting of the Silk Stocking Club on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. C. L. Saunders delightfully entertained the members at the Hotel Hilda. The game was played in the parlor after which they were ushered to the dining room where a delicious chicken salad course was served.

Mrs. W. R. Nelson was the only guest. The prize for highest score was awarded to Mrs. John C. Bragg.

MARRIED LADIES BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. D. S. Echols entertained the Married Ladies Bridge club at their weekly meeting on Wednesday.

Mrs. A. E. Humphrey substituted and Mrs. J. L. Echols won the prize. The next week's meeting will be with Mrs. C. B. Elliott.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Master Lampkin Guy will be honor guest at a party given for him on Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. A. B. Lampkin on Canal street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Littlejohn, of Pasadena, Cal, arrived Friday afternoon to spend a few days with their niece, Mrs. R. N. Harris.

Mrs. B. L. Henkel is in Birmingham, the guest of her son, L. C. Henkel and Mrs. Henkel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Guy and son, Lampkin, have returned from a few days stay in Birmingham.

Misses Margaret and Annie Guy of Tusculum, are spending the winter in New York city where the former is studying voice. Both are frequent visitors in the Twin Cities where they are guests of their brother, Eugene Guy.

Mrs. Marcia Bullard expects to go to Athens in a few days to visit Mrs. Henry Blinford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edmundson and Mrs. Roy Horton have returned from a visit to Birmingham.

Mrs. Sam Schulman and infant son, left Tuesday for their home in Nashville after a two weeks visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Sam Frank.

Mrs. O. Freed Baur and baby daughter of Nashville have returned home after having been the guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Arantz.

Mrs. Harry Carpenter is able to be up after a several weeks illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Holley spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Millam and Mr. and Mrs. Z. H. Beadler of Albany.

Dr. David Dinsmore continues very ill at the home of her niece, Mrs. Masterson in Hartselle.

The Federated Missionary Societies of Albany-Decatur, Trinity, Austinville will meet in the First Methodist church of Decatur next Monday, Oct. 20th, at 10:30 o'clock for an all-day program. Each lady brings her own box lunch and the hostess church provides the coffee. This meeting will be full of inspiration and help for all who attend and the ladies are urged to join in making it the best meeting that has ever been held.

NEGRO GIRLS SHUN MINISTER HUSBANDS, REPORT ASSERTS

NEW YORK—Modern negro girls do not want ministers for husbands because "the girls would have to give up dancing, movies and card parties," and because negro ministers have much smaller incomes than men of their race in other professions and a business. This is disclosed in a report made public today of a survey of theological schools for negroes made under the direction of the institute of social and religious research by Dr. Robert L. Kelley and W. A. Daniel.

Negro ministers are not so well educated as men of their race trained for other fields of activity says the report, and their influence as leaders of their people in this country is waning. While the first efforts of negro education were especially directed to the training of ministers and the best men in the schools used to go into the ministry, the theological schools are now nearly all of lower status than other schools of higher education for negroes, with lower entrance and graduation requirements and comparatively small enrollment.

"In most cases," the report adds, "the members of the theological faculty compare much more favorably with the rest of the faculty than do the students in the theological department with the students in other departments." It is further pointed out, the report states, that if all the men graduating from the 52 negro theological seminaries in the United States last year had gone directly into the ministry, as is usually the case, less than three per cent of the vacancies could have been filled by men "whose combined literary and theological training would be equivalent to three years above high school."

NEARLY THREE SCORE AND TEN PITTSBURGH TUTOR STUDIES

PITTSBURGH.—Mrs. Grace C. Haworth, 69, is a firm believer in the adage, "It's never too late to learn." She attended the recent session of the Harvard Summer school, being the oldest of the 2,500 students enrolled. Having completed the course in secondary education she now feels better equipped to perform her duties as teacher in a public school here, a position she has filled acceptably 49 years.

Summing up her views of the college life she saw, Mrs. Haworth said: "It's a fine school, but I don't approve of the young women smoking on the campus. These modern students have too much money to spend and not enough work to keep them busy."

Mrs. Haworth plans to retire from classroom work next year. She thinks she will turn to welfare work, she said.

Helpful Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and am going with a young man a year older than I. I love him and he tells me that he loves me, but I rather think he is in love with another girl. Please tell me if I should continue my friendship with him.

TOOTS.

TOOTS: If this young man has "declared" his love for you, why do you doubt his word, Toots? Since he is not engaged to you, it is his privilege to meet other friends, even though he is fond of you. I suggest that you continue your friendship with him at the same time taking an active part in the social life of your community and meet with your other acquaintances. If you do not give the young man an opportunity to think you "suspect" him, he will be more apt to make you his confidante.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

1. On second introduction, is it the girl's place to acknowledge having met before?
2. Just how would you introduce a girl to a boy?
3. In a swell restaurant, do you allow the man to order for you?
4. After dancing, is it the girl's place to thank her partner for the dance?

CUTIOUS: 1. The lady has the privilege of greeting the gentleman first, and he, in turn, always waits for a sign of recognition from her.

2. You never introduce a girl to a young man, Miss Cutious. The gentleman is always presented or introduced to the lady. Thus, you would say, "Miss Smith, may I present you to Mr. Jones?" Less formally, "Elsie, this is Bob."

3. The gentleman always asks the lady what her choice is, because, regardless of the size of the restaurant, he is her host. She gives her order to him and ignores the solicitations of the waiter who may attempt to get a "first hand."

4. The gentleman thanks his partner for the dance and she, in turn, assures him that she has enjoyed it, too.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am in love with two girls, both very pretty. Each one likes me very much and wants me to go about with her, and I don't know how to tell which girl should be my choice. Please advise me.
BILL.

BILL: Love is too personal a emotion to be divided between two people, Bill. And consequently you are not in love at all if you feel that you love two young ladies. In the circumstances I suggest that you continue your friendship with both of them and wait until you really fall in love before you make your choice.

CRAB INVASION AT SUNSET

REGLA—Land crabs in great numbers invade this city every evening shortly after sunset, crawling through the streets in the lower section of town in search of scraps of garbage on which to feed. As a result the affected sections have the appearance of a childless municipality. Authorities are unable to explain their presence.

FRENCH WOMAN CROSSES SAHARA MERELY TO BE WITH HER HUSBAND

HARVE—Mme. Delingette has nothing of the explorer about her, yet she is said to be the first woman to have crossed the Sahara desert. This journey she accomplished with her husband and M. Bonnaure, an engineer.

She is a dainty French woman, and is very modest about her exploit. When asked why she risked so dangerous a journey she replied quite simply, "Why, to be with my husband, of course."

Her advice to would-be explorers of her sex is terse. "If women want to go from Oran to North Africa to Cape Town in an automobile they must make up their minds to do without their daily bath and their morning manure. They must be ready and willing to lend a hand in tight places, either to pull the car out of a rut or help to build bridges of logs—well built, 129."

Rockney Moulds New Grid Team

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Gridiron fans interested in this season's prospects at Notre Dame can have it from the coach that the school of "Four Horsemen" fame will probably lose at least two games, and in losing only two will consider it a successful season.

With the house that was built upon "Rock" crumbled, that distinguished figure in the football world—Knut Rockney—is intent upon building a "bigger and better" team, a habit the nan seems to have. But the new team probably will not be completed this year, and it is this that the fans are studying.

For willingness, the little army that Coach Rockne commands at Notre Dame is unbeatable. Many of the candidates for the 1925 team have had the benefit of Rockne's lectures and practices. Others have been on the Freshmen squad, the reserve team that Rockne seasons with small conflicts, or the inter-hall teams that are given varsity supervision.

From this large camp of recruits, Rockne hopes to select a picked eleven. "Notre Dame will probably lose at least two games," Rockne says. "If only two defeats are chalked up against us we can consider the season successful."

Glenn Crowe, captain is about the only linesman whose name appeared in last year's game reports. The fleet and had little opportunity to open up with Collins and Hunsinger in the field, but his chance this year will be unlimited.

In the new backfield Dick Hanousek, a guard, is being groomed for fullback, where it is hoped that he can keep open the gaps made by the "human bullet," Hayden in last year's struggles. Edwards, quarterback, is faced with the task of filling Harry Stuhldreher's shoes, and since Harry was Camp's choice for All-American, Edwards' job will be no sinecure. Boyle and Heardon seemed to pair well in the few minutes they played at half last season and are regarded as the logical flank men for the new backfield.

The Freshmen squad produced few outstanding men, Smith and Poliski, guards and Doarn, tackle, being the three upon whom Rockne dwelt long.

Corn Husk King

W. E. Blain, of Wichita, Kan., is supposed to be wealthy from the sale of corn husks, for which he pays $130 a ton, selling his product to firms on the Pacific Coast. Millions of hot tamales are wrapped in the husks. A knife and whetstone are his sole investments.

Docket Cleared Of Liquor Cases

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Oct. 16—One development of unusual interest, arising yesterday in federal court was the clearing of the docket of all cases growing out of the arrests of alleged members of the Albany-Decatur liquor ring with the exception of those against Oscar Marion whose case was continued, and Robert McDonald, alias Bob Donohoo, who is sick in bed in a hospital. The men who were found guilty yesterday entered pleas of guilty in the remaining cases docketed against them and were given sentences that will run concurrently, except in some of the leading cases in which a year was added to the sentences imposed Wednesday. The men were charged with conspiring to violate the national prohibition law and attempted bribery and the sentence now stands on the docket as follows:

Dee Almon, two years and six months.
Marion Blackwell three years.

er than usual. These men, however, will aid in strengthening the new line and will have plenty to chance to prove themselves.

Rockne's reserve team, a group of the varsity squad who played small colleges during the regular season, will report this fall with the valuable field experience of last season behind them.

John Sherrill $50 fine.
Lonnie S. Allen, one year and one day.

G. W. Collier, three years.
Abe Powell three years.
Joe Gunn, four years.
Sam Sherrill, sixty days.

All were allowed to make bail and go home and they are to come back to Huntsville October 26, report to the United States marshal and be ready to make the pilgrimage to Atlanta where they are to serve their sentences. There was some talk of an appeal being taken by some of the men immediately after their conviction but they have all decided to accept the sentence and get through with it all as quickly as possible.

The Sunny Land of Lengthened Youth

Age claims its toll at HOLLYWOOD By the Sea—even though—but the glorious out of doors, the regenerative, ocean-born ozone that fills one's lungs 24 hours a day every day in the year, the endless variety of recreations, the daily joys of land and salt sea sports—all lengthen youth and hold old age at a standstill.

HOLLYWOOD'S immense building program, embracing many millions of dollars, $4,000,000 of which are for hotels now under construction, means that here is to be developed a solid city of surpassing attractiveness—a city teeming with every facility for life's utmost enjoyment but operating as a city of commerce, industry and thrift and not as a mere seasonal idling place.

Property bought at today's prices must inevitably advance far beyond present levels as HOLLYWOOD moves steadily forward towards the maritime supremacy of Florida's East Coast.

W. M. U. ANNUAL MEETING

The Associational W. M. U. of Morgan County will hold its annual meeting with Central Baptist church, Albany on Tuesday, October 20th, co-operation being the keynote of the day's program.

The program will begin at 10 a. m. Most of the morning program will be given over to Jacob Gartenhaus, missionary to the Jews. He is a very strong speaker.

Mrs. J. W. Moore, the Northern district vice president will speak at the afternoon service.

All Baptist women of Morgan County were urged to attend this meeting. The pastors and laymen were invited. All officers were urged to bring with them reports of the year's work.

Lunch will be served by the hostess church.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. O. F. Stinson was the hostess to the members of the Thursday Bridge club this week and she had one guest, Mrs. Shaffer.

At the club game Mrs. Spencer Garnett made top score. Late in the afternoon a salad course was served.

Mrs. Stinson's home was prettily decorated with roses and carnations on this occasion.

THURSDAY CLUB

The Thursday club met with Mrs. B. M. Bloodworth on Thursday afternoon and two guests played with the club members, Mrs. W. N. Cowden and Mrs. John McGehee.

Mrs. McGehee received the guest memento and Mrs. Bloodworth the club prize after which sandwiches and coffee were served.

SILK STOCKING CLUB

At the meeting of the Silk Stocking Club on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. C. L. Saunders delightfully entertained the members at the Hotel Hilda. The game was played in the parlor after which they were ushered to the dining room where a delicious chicken salad course was served.

Mrs. W. R. Nelson was the only guest. The prize for highest score was awarded to Mrs. John C. Bragg.

MARRIED LADIES BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. D. S. Echols entertained the Married Ladies Bridge club at their weekly meeting on Wednesday.

Mrs. A. E. Humphrey substituted and Mrs. J. L. Echols won the prize. The next week's meeting will be with Mrs. C. B. Elliott.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Master Lampkin Guy will be honor guest at a party given for him on Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. A. B. Lampkin on Canal street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Littlejohn, of Pasadena, Cal. arrived Friday afternoon to spend a few days with their niece, Mrs. R. N. Harris.

Mrs. B. L. Henkel is in Birmingham, the guest of her son, L. C. Henkel and Mrs. Henkel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Guy and son, Lampkin, have returned from a few days stay in Birmingham.

Misses Margaret and Annie Guy of Tusculum, are spending the winter in New York city where the former is studying voice. Both are frequent visitors in the Twin Cities where they are guests of their brother, Eugene Guy.

Mrs. Marcia Bullard expects to go to Athens in a few days to visit Mrs. Henry Binford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edmundson and Mrs. Roy Horton have returned from a visit to Birmingham.

Mrs. Sam Schulman and infant son, left Tuesday for their home in Nashville after a two weeks visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Sam Frank.

Mrs. O. Freed Baur and baby daughter of Nashville have returned home after having been the guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Arantz.

Mrs. Harry Carpenter is able to be up after a several weeks illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Holley spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Millam and Mr. and Mrs. Z. H. Beadl of Albany.

Dr. David Dinsmore continues very ill at the home of her niece, Mrs. Masterson in Hartselle.

The Federated Missionary Societies of Albany-Decatur, Trinity, Austinville will meet in the First Methodist church of Decatur next Monday, Oct. 19th, at 10:30 o'clock for an all-day program. Each lady brings her own lunch and the hostess church provides the coffee. This meeting will be full of inspiration and help for all who attend and the ladies are urged to join in making it the best meeting that has ever been held.

H. E. Dryden Jr. left Monday morning for a business visit to points in Florida.

NEGRO GIRLS SHUN MINISTER HUSBANDS, REPORT ASSERTS

NEW YORK—Modern negro girls do not want ministers for husbands because "the girls would have to give up dancing, movies and card parties," and because negro ministers have much smaller incomes than men of their race in other professions and in business. This is disclosed in a report made public today of a survey of theological schools for negroes made under the direction of the institute of social and religious research by Dr. Robert L. Kelley and W. A. Daniel.

Negro ministers are not so well educated as men of their race trained for other fields of activity says the report, and their influence as leaders of their people in this country is waning. While the first efforts of negro education were especially directed to the training of ministers and the best men in the schools used to go into the ministry, the theological schools are now nearly all of lower status than other schools of higher education for negroes, with lower entrance and graduation requirements and comparatively small enrollment.

"In most cases," the report adds, "the members of the theological faculty compare much more favorably with the rest of the faculty than do the students in the theological department with the students in other departments." It is further pointed out, the report states, that if all the men graduating from the 52 negro theological seminaries in the United States last year had gone directly into the ministry, as is usually the case, less than three per cent of the vacancies could have been filled by men "whose combined literary and theological training would be equivalent to three years above high school."

NEARLY THREE SCORE AND TEN PITTSBURGH TUTOR STUDIES

PITTSBURGH.—Mrs. Grace C. Haworth, 69, is a firm believer in the adage, "It's never too late to learn." She attended the recent session of the Harvard Summer school, being the oldest of the 2,500 students enrolled. Having completed the course in secondary education she now feels better equipped to perform her duties as teacher in a public school here, a position she has filled acceptably 49 years.

Summing up her views of the college life she saw, Mrs. Haworth said: "It's a fine school, but I don't approve of the young women smoking on the campus. These modern students have too much money to spend and not enough work to keep them busy."

Mrs. Haworth plans to retire from classroom work next year. She thinks she will turn to welfare work, she said.

The Lure of Southern Loveliness

Helpful Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and am going with a young man a year older than I. I love him and he tells me that he loves me, but I rather think he is in love with another girl. Please tell me if I should continue my friendship with him.

TOOTS.

TOOTS: If this young man has "declared" his love for you, why do you doubt his word, Toots? Since he is not engaged to you, it is his privilege to meet other friends, even though he is fond of you. I suggest that you continue your friendship with him, at the same time, taking an active part in the social life of your community and meeting your other acquaintances. If you do not give the young man an opportunity to think you "suspect" him, he will be more apt to make you his confidante.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

1. On second introduction, is it the girl's place to acknowledge having met before?
2. Just how would you introduce a girl to a boy?
3. In a well restaurant, do you allow the man to order for you?
4. After dancing, is it the girl's place to thank her partner for the dance?

CURLIOUS.

CURLIOUS: 1. The lady has the privilege of greeting the gentleman first, and he, in turn, always waits for a sign of recognition from her.

2. You never introduce a girl to a young man, Miss Curlious. The gentleman is always presented or introduced to the lady. Thus, you would say, "Miss Smith, may I present for introduction Mr. Jones?" Less formally, "Elsie, this is Bob."
3. The gentleman always asks the lady what her choice is, because, regardless of the size of the restaurant, he is her host. She gives her order to him and ignores the solicitations of the waiter who may attempt to get a "first hand."
4. The gentleman thanks his partner for the dance and she, in turn, assures him that she has enjoyed it, too.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am in love with two girls, both very pretty. Each one likes me very much and wants me to go about with her, and I don't know how to tell which one should be my choice. Please advise me.

BILL.

BILL: Love is too personal an emotion to be divided between two people, Bill. And consequently, you are not in love at all if you feel that you love two young ladies. Under the circumstances I suggest that you continue your friendship with both of them and wait until you really fall in love before you make your choice.

CRAB INVASION AT SUNSET

REGIA—Land crabs in great numbers invade this city every evening shortly after sunset, crawling through the streets in the lower section of town in search of scraps of garbage on which to feed. As a result the affected sections have the appearance of a childless municipality. Authorities are unable to explain their presence.

FRENCH WOMAN CROSSES SAHARA MERELY TO BE WITH HER HUSBAND

HARVE—Mrs. Delingette has nothing of the explorer about her, yet she is said to be the first woman to have crossed the Sahara desert. This journey she accomplished with her husband and M. Bonnaure, an engineer.

She is a dainty French woman, and is very modest about her exploit. When asked why she risked so dangerous a journey she replied quite simply, "Why, to be with my husband, of course."

Her advice to would-be explorers of her sex is terse. "If women want to go from Oran to North Africa to Cape Town in an automobile they must make up their minds to do without their daily bath and their morning manure. They must be ready and willing to lend a hand in tight places, either to pull the car out of a rut or help to build bridges of logs—no built 129."

Rockney Moulds New Grid Team

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Gridiron fans interested in this season's prospects at Notre Dame can have it from the coach that the school of "Four Horsemen" fame will probably use at least two games, and in losing only two will consider it a successful season.

With the house that was built upon "Rock" crumbled, that distinguished figure in the football world—Knut Rockne—is intent upon building a "bigger and better" team, a habit the nan seems to have. But the new team probably will not be completed this year, and it is this that the fans are studying.

For willingness, the little army that Coach Rockne commands at Notre Dame is unbeatable. Many of the candidates for the 1925 team have had the benefit of Rockne's lectures and practices. Others have been on the Freshmen squad, the reserve team that Rockne seasons with small conflicts, or the inter-hall teams that are given varsity supervision.

From this large camp of recruits, Rockne hopes to select a picked eleven "Notre Dame will probably lose at least two games," Rockne says. "If only two defeats are chalked up against us we can consider the season successful."

Glenn Crowe, captain is about the only line man whose name appeared in last year's game reports. The fleet end had little opportunity to open up with Collins and Hunsinger in the field, but his chance this year will be unlimited.

In the new backfield Dick Hanousek, a guard, is being groomed for fullback, where it is hoped that he can keep open the gaps made by the "human bullet," Layden in last year's struggles. Edwards, quarterback, faced with the task of filling Harry Stuhldreher's shoes, and since Harry was Camp's choice for All-American, Edwards' job will be no sinecure. J. Boyle and Hearndon seemed to pair well in the few minutes they played at half last season and are regarded as the logical flank men for the new backfield.

The Freshmen squad produced few outstanding men, Smith and Poliski, guards and Doarn, tackle, being the three upon whom Rockne dwelt long.

Corn Husk King

W. E. Blain, of Wichita, Kan., is supposed to be wealthy from the sale of corn husks, for which he pays $130 a ton, selling his product to firms on the Pacific Coast. Millions of hot tamales are wrapped in the husks. A knife and whetstone are his sole investments.

Docket Cleared Of Liquor Cases

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Oct. 16—One development of unusual interest arising yesterday in federal court was the clearing of the docket of all cases growing out of the arrests of alleged members of the Albany-Decatur liquor ring with the exception of those against Oscar Marion whose case was continued, and Robert McDonald, alias Bob Donohoo, who is sick in bed in a hospital. The men who were found guilty yesterday entered pleas of guilty in the remaining cases docketed against them and were given sentences that will run concurrently, except in some of the leading cases in which a year was added to the sentences imposed Wednesday. The men were charged with conspiring to violate the national prohibition law and attempted bribery and the sentence now stands on the docket as follows:

Dee Almon, two years and six months.
Marion Blackwell three years.

er than usual. These men however, will aid in strengthening the new line and will have plenty of chance to prove themselves.

Rockne's reserve team, a group of the varsity squad who played small colleges during the regular season, will report this fall with the valuable field experience of last season behind them.

Sam Sherrill, sixty days.

All were allowed to make bail and go home and they are to come back to Huntsville October 26, report to the United States marshal and be ready to make the pilgrimage to Atlanta where they are to serve their sentences. There was some talk of an appeal being taken by some of the men immediately after their conviction but they have all decided to accept the sentence and get through with it all as quickly as possible.

The Sunny Land of Lengthened Youth

Age claims its toll at HOLLYWOOD By the Sea—eventually—but the glorious out of doors, the regenerative, ocean-born ozone that fills one's lungs 24 hours a day every day in the year, the endless variety of recreations, the daily joys of land and salt sea sports—all lengthen youth and hold old age at a standstill.

HOLLYWOOD'S immense building program, embracing many millions of dollars, $4,000,000 of which are for hotels now under construction, means that here is to be developed a solid city of surpassing attractiveness—a city teeming with every facility for life's utmost enjoyment but operating as a city of commerce, industry and thrift and not as a mere seasonal idling place.

Property bought at today's prices must inevitably advance far beyond present levels as HOLLYWOOD moves steadily forward towards the maritime supremacy of Florida's East Coast.

JAPANESE RADICAL RETURNS TO TOKYO TO FACE CHARGE

TOKYO—After fleeing from Japan to Russia two years ago, at the time the police of Tokyo were arresting large numbers of so-called radicals, Gaku Sano, former Waseda University professor and one of the leading socialists of the country, has returned and surrendered to the authorities for trial.

Mr. Sano made the long journey from Moscow to Tokyo by way of Peking and Shanghai, unrecognized by the police who had sought him since May, 1923. As soon as he entered Tokyo he went at once to the office of his lawyer and friends, Kesaya Yamazaki, at Shinsakuradacho, Shiba and later to the Tokyo District court where he met Procurator Kuroda, in charge of his case, to offer an apology for his escape.

He asked the prosecutor to include him among the Socialists whose trials are to come up soon. Upon examination at the office of the procurator Mr. Sano gave some of the details of his escape. He went from Tokyo to Peking, he said, and stayed there a week during which time he obtained permission and credentials for entering Russia. From Peking he proceeded directly to Moscow, without trouble and there became a student at the Marx-Engels Institute.

Mr. Sano declared that he stayed at the institute until the end of 1922, helping Professor Lizarnoff, the celebrated Marican student, publish a collection of Marx doctrines and economic theories. He was in Moscow at the time of the death of Lenin and was one of the few Japanese attendants at the impressive funeral services. Later he took the chair of Japanese in the language departments of several Russian colleges.

KANSAS FINDS TWO STATES
FULLY REGULATING HOTELS

TOPEKA—Hotel regulation by commissions created solely for that purpose is performed in only two states, Kansas and Florida. Phil E. Zimmerman, hotel commissioner in Kansas, has determined after making a survey of the entire country.

The hotel commissions of Kansas and Florida were created by legislative enactment the same year, 1913.

Twenty other states have hotel regulation in some degree, Mr. Zimmerman learned.

"But inspection and supervision of hotels in those states are side-shows for bigger circuses," he said. "Such functions of the state are performed by boards of health, fire marshals, public utilities commissions, welfare boards or other bodies."

Those twenty states are Minnesota, Washington, Wisconsin, Alabama, South Dakota, Kentucky, Idaho, Nebraska, Arkansas, New Mexico, Utah, Oklahoma, Iowa, North Dakota, Tennessee, South Carolina, Montana, California, Vermont and Ohio.

Pirate Triumph At Expense of Old Master
Is More Costly Than Ever To Washington

Pittsburgh carried away the greatest world series in the history of the national sport Thursday afternoon. Pirates are raised to unknown heights in a game three straight stand with defeat staring them in the face at every twist of fate. Pirates did not allow sentiment to hold sway over the importance of winning the world championship and they certainly cannot be blamed for that, but the greatest blow delivered in the series now past was the loss to the veteran Walter Johnson.

Stanley Harris, youthful manager of the Senators, should have removed Johnson from the box when Pirate gats started thumping at regular intervals, but Harris did not and the world as a whole does not blame him. Harris is a youth and youth has its ideals. He could see the humiliation of Walter Johnson upon being taken from the mound to meet the same fate as that which Aldridge met. Harris looked at the tumbledown ideal, Johnson's winning his greatest victory at the end of his baseball career, carrying his team on his own shoulders through the portals of baseball fame. Harris did not look at the $2,000 loss to each player, he saw only his idol, Walter Johnson, the greatest figure in baseball.

It is to be believed that Washington would have taken the deciding tilt had Fred Marberry or Walter Reuther been sent in to work, but Harris did not consider the glory of the victory, he saw only the effect of defeat on old Barney Johnson. That is what makes Harris a great "Kid" manager, his own men surely strive to do their best for him when they know that he is playing the game for them rather than for the glory attached and the fat pocketbook that will result from victory.

The Pirates are to be congratulated for their game uphill fight, they battled against odds which other ball clubs might not have been able to overcome and they won, that sort of mettle constitutes a world champion aggregation. Manager McKetchnie, Captain Carey and the entire Pirate squad has accomplished almost an impossible feat, they have won with the count three to one against them.

The writer predicted before the start of the series that the Pirates would win out after a seven game fight, the same writer was longing to see the Senators pull through, they didn't but the writer's sentiment still remains with Washington and Walter Johnson. Youth must be served, so they say, and youth was served and at the greatest possible cost, Walter Johnson went down in defeat and with him went the hearts of a million fans.

LOCAL GOLFERS URGED TO QUALIFY EARLY

Announcement was made today by the officials in charge of the Golf tournament to be held at the Valley Country Club on October 19, 20, and 21 that the links would be open Sunday afternoon for local entrants and as many local club members as possible are requested and urged to qualify on Sunday afternoon. A member of the tournament committee will be on hand to register all entrants and take up the scores.

It is expected that 50 out of town golfers will be here for the meet, and the links will be crowded Monday with the visiting players.
